Electric Bitters

A New Man Of Him. Suffering from pain in my head and back, writes Mr. Richard N. G. and says: "I have tried many remedies but did not work right. I got a bottle of Electric Bitters. It is like a new man."

BLOUSE SLEEVE IS NOVEL

Genuine Comfort and Artistic Appearance Combined in a Recent French Importation.

There is a genuine comfort in the sleeve displayed in one of the recently imported French blouses. It is long, of course, for all Paris is wearing long sleeves with the same short with which they adopted the short ones in the winter, and is tight from the elbow to the wrist. It fits comfortably into the armhole under the arm, but the upper portion runs right up over the shoulder to the collar. This affords an excellent opportunity to use a long length of lace, from three to four inches in width. The effect is very much like that of the popular raglan sleeve. The undersleeve may be of tucked net, chiffon or almon. The long lines of lace from collar to waist lend the kimono effect without any of the looseness of the kimono sleeve under the arm.

This sleeve is generally buttoned from the wrist to the elbow with tiny lace or silk buttons, for the glove-like snugness of the sleeve demands an opening. The ruffle at the wrist is often extended to the elbow, sometimes on the outer seam, again on the inner. To have a ruffle dainty, however, it must be fresh, and unless this can be accomplished it is advisable to omit it.

MUSLIN DRESS FOR GIRL

This is made in Swiss spotted muslin and has the skirt prettily trimmed with tucks, insertion and a lace edging.

LONG-SLEEVE MOST POPULAR

Variety is a Great One, But Most Frocks Are Made With Decidedly Long Ones.

Since evening dresses and little dance frocks are in a class by themselves and presupposes the use of long gloves, their sleeves are less apt to show any decided changes. There is so little of them, in the first place. But fashion has given her flat anent afternoon dresses and suits. Here are some of the changes:

In the majority of dresses the long sleeve prevails.

Most of the sleeves are set on the garment about three inches below the shoulder, thus giving a long shoulder line.

Some frocks show the cuirass effect or separate large sleeve over the set-in sleeves that are on the underbodice.

Fullness is the keynote. There is given in ruffles at the elbow, in wired puffs on undersleeves, in the general cut of a bishop or leg-of-mutton type. Shirring is used on cuffs and on the under-arm seam to dispose of material in full lines.

Frills are shown on the edge of the sleeves and running up the outer seam. They also edge the upper and under lines of the cuffs.

Fullness is given to the sleeves of storm coats and evening wraps by having them cut in one with the garment, dispensing with armholes, yet departing from the kimono type by having decided cuffs and a fitted end at the wrists.

Hats From French Milliners.

Three unusually attractive hats embody many of the smart new ideas for fall. Among the most interesting of these is one from Suzanne, which is of the sailor type. Developed in black velvet, with a band around the crown of golden wheat, which finishes in the center front with red velvet puppies, this flower trim has met with favor and is being worn by the fashionable Parisian. A small Suzanne hat is also shown, developed in black velvet, the feature of which is the soft fall of the brim. A band of white skunk is used around the head band of this hat, which is finished at the side with a small American Beauty bud. A chic black plush sailor from Madame Dalany has marked distinction. White coques are placed gracefully at each side of the hat.—Millinery Trade Review.

Crepe Draperies.

The young daughter's room may be made dainty nowadays at a small cost. Among the new draperies being shown are those of new cotton crepe. The goods can be laundered frequently and need not be ironed; the draperies can always be kept fresh and clean. The crepe is manufactured in lovely designs and in almost any color.

Not An Experiment.

Paint Lick, Ky.—Mrs. Mary Freeman, of this place, says: "Before I commenced to take Cadral, I suffered so much from womanly trouble, I was so weak that I was down in my back nearly all the time. Cadral has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life. I can't possibly praise it too highly." You need not be afraid to take Cadral. It is no new experiment. For fifty years, it has been found to relieve headache, backache, and similar womanly troubles. Composed of gentle-acting, non-toxic ingredients, Cadral builds up the strength, preventing much unnecessary pain. Try it for your troubles, today. Advertisement.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrat, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its thrice-a-week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville-Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Eight Who Deserve Staps.

Eight men who deserve to be slapped on the face: He who despises a man of power; he who enters a house uninvited and unwelcome; he who gives orders in a house not his own; he who takes a seat above his position; he who speaks to one who does not listen to him; he who intrudes on the conversation of others; he who seeks favors from the ungenerous; and he who expects love from his enemies.—From a Persian Saying.

Ice And Electric Plant For Sale

See the advertisement elsewhere of the Lafayette Ice & Electric Co. The company wants to sell by January 1st. Everything in good order and now running.

Real Test.

There is something finer than to do right against inclination, and that is to have an inclination to do right. There is something nobler than reluctant obedience, and that is joyful obedience. The rank of virtue is not measured by its disagreeableness, but by its sweetness to the heart that loves it. The real test of character is joy. For what you rejoice in, that you love. And what you love, that you are like.—Henry van Dyke.

DIAMONDS.

A profitable and safe investment. A bargain at present values in a few extra large diamond rings; will not last long. See them at

M. D. KELLY'S.

Be Careful In Speech.

If in our speech we would consider how our words will affect those to whom they are spoken—if we would try to hear them with their ears and consider how they accept in their hearts, there would not be such passionate or unadvised speech; certainly there would be few apoplexies or lives shattered by the words of our lips.—W. G. Spencer.

PREPARING SALAD AND FRUIT

Methods That Are Not New, But Have Successfully Withstood Test of Time.

Escalloped Squash.—Cut the squash into small pieces and boil until tender, but not soft enough to mash. Butter a baking dish and cover the bottom with a layer of squash, over which sprinkle a little salt, a little sugar and a few bits of butter. Keep doing this until the dish is full. On top, in addition to the seasoning, add a little grated nutmeg. Pour in about two-thirds of a cup of milk and bake in a moderate oven. Serve hot.

Egg Plant Salad.—Cut the egg plant in quarter-inch slices, pare, sprinkle with salt and pepper and saute them quickly in hot butter. Drain on cheese cloth; when cold, cut them in dice, sprinkle on them some minced water-cress and cover with a cream salad dressing made by stirring three teaspoons of grated horseradish, three tablespoons of lemon juice, one-half teaspoon of salt and a dash of paprika into one cup of thick whipped cream.

Baked Quinces.—Core and pare eight ripe, juicy quinces. Put them into a buttered baking dish and fill the cavities with sugar. Sprinkle the remains of three-quarters of a cup of sugar over them and add one and a half cups of water. Cover and bake until soft in a moderate oven, basting often. Quinces require a long time for cooking. Serve hot with butter and sugar.

Red and White Pickle.—Select one large or two small heads of cauliflower, break into bits. To this add one-half pint of small onions, two red peppers. Dissolve one-quarter pint of salt in sufficient vinegar to cover vegetables. Let stand over night, drain in morning. Heat one quart of vinegar and two tablespoons of mustard until it boils, put in vegetables, boil 15 minutes, bottle and seal.

SEEK WELL-BALANCED DIET

Of the Utmost Importance to the Health and Welfare of All the Family.

It is the duty of the housewife to furnish a well balanced diet to the members of her family. By taking something from each group of food materials she will be able to supply all of the five food substances—protein, fat, carbohydrates, minerals and water—which are necessary. The correct proportions of each, however, must be determined by the individual requirements and peculiarities. Appetite, age, sex, occupation, climate and season must all be considered when making a well-regulated diet for the normal person.

It should always be remembered that the ideal diet is that combination of foods which, while imposing the least burden on the body, supplies it with exactly sufficient material to meet its wants, and that any disregard of such a standard must inevitably prevent the best development of our powers.

The vegetable foods—peas, beans, lentils and nuts, particularly peanuts—that may in a measure supplant meat should often be found on the table. The peanut paste or butter made from finely-ground nuts is pleasing to the taste and very nutritious. Peanut-butter sandwiches make a wholesome lunch for school children.

Cupboard for Cooked Food.

I have been using for several years a home-made food closet which has proved to be a great convenience, writes a contributor. In warm weather, as I have no ice, I cook often, and place the food, until wanted, in the closet, which is well ventilated and safe from flies and ants. It stands in a cool room with open windows. It is four feet high, five feet long and two feet wide with three shelves. It has four short legs which raise it from the floor about six inches. The legs stand in small pans of water containing a little kerosene. Two doors with panels of fine wire netting occupy the entire front. The food closet is neatly painted and varnished and is both ornamental and useful, not only in summer, but in cool weather find it a safe and handy place to keep cooked food.

Beef Balls.

Cut beef from top of round in strips, and scrape. Season this with salt and form into small balls, using as little pressure as possible. Cook the balls for one minute in a very hot frying pan, shaking the pan constantly to keep them rolling. The little balls will be lightly browned all over, looking like chocolate. To serve them temptingly, pile a few on a pretty plate, in a tiny pyramid, with a sprig or two of parsley, and narrow strips of crisp corn.

Handy Stick.

A smooth, strong stick, about forty inches long, with a notch in one end, is a useful thing to have in the house. With it pleasures may be lifted by the wire from their hooks and replaced without climbing up and down a step ladder.

Apple Fleet.

Press one quart of nice stewed apples from which all surplus liquor has been drained, through a sieve. Add juice of one lemon and sugar to taste. Beat into it the whipped whites of three eggs. Serve at once with cream.

New Beef Sandwiches.

Cut stale bread very thin, butter slightly. Remove crusts, spread half the bread with seasoned beef well minced. Place in sandwich form, cutting the sandwiches small.
